Seven Steps in Researching and Writing an Apa Paper Paula Porter 2009-12 Paula Porter has been writing since the seventh grade, when Mr. Kirk named her editor of the Minden, Iowa, Junior High Newspaper. She has an AA in Journalism from Iowa Western Community College, a BA in Journalism from the University of Nebraska at Omaha, a BA in Elementary Education from Buena Vista University, a MA in English Creative Writing from Iowa State University, and is completing her dissertation for a Ph.D. in Instructional Design for Online Learning from Capella University. Porter is a published poet and essayist, as well as a technical editor and Internet senior editor. When not teaching in the classroom or online at several colleges, Porter can be found cleaning stalls and tack or riding her horses, Odie and Tucker. Writing a research paper is easy, once students understand the process. The focus of this text is to help students learn, not only how to format an APA research paper, but how to "research smart, not hard." Not only does this book provide step-by-step instructions in creating APA templates for Microsoft Word 2003 and 2007, but helps students avoid intimidation by citations and references once they learn the mnemonics for both. By following a few simple steps, the dreaded research paper can be tamed. After teaching freshman English for sixteen years, I was delighted to use Paula Porter's 7 Steps to Researching and Writing an APA-formatted Research Paper for my Composition I and II classes. This book provides instruction in database and Internet research, as well as all the stages of the writing process, the most daunting task for college writers. Porter has combined higher level thinking skills of analysis, synthesis and evaluation with well-explained strategies in steps that lead to success for those who follow them. Dr. Diane Strauser Alvarez Porter has broken down a dense set of information into carefully constructed units designed to facilitate students' easy application of the requirements for APA format and essay writing. Her concise and methodical approach to the material is a boon for any writing course, and her approach utilizes her experience both as a student required to write in this citation style and as an instructor who has encountered the front lines with her students. Simple in its diction, it is not simplistic in what it affords for student success. AnneMarie Fowler, English and Literature Faculty

A Universal Template for Research Position and Life Experience Papers Dale Drakeford 2005-03-01 The self-descriptive title, A Universal Template For Research Position and Life Experience Papers, implies that there is a position that writers take in even the simplest of essays. As such, Template provides an opportunity to accomplish two tasks at once: consider the definitive differences between Research, Position, and Experience papers, and explore the issues that impound and empower contemporary urban education. Dale Benjamin Drakeford provides an interactive workshop to guide student writing on any social science subject. Agreeing with many scholars that public and free pedagogy is indispensable, the author also argues that there is no wrong or right in scholastic debate, only correct presentation of objective thoughts or non-objective attitudes. This the author says, is what is sometimes forgotten in the heat of getting ideas on paper. Hence, Template provides structure for planning papers, and in-process cues for staying on task to complete them with proper formality.

The HM Learning and Study Skills Program Judy Tilton Brunner 2016-10-14 Level III (Grades 11-13) The hm Learning and Study Skills Program: Level III was designed to provide an introduction to learning and study skills for high school juniors and seniors and beginning college students through a series of activity-oriented units. It is structured on the assumption that an activity-oriented lesson is the most effective instructional strategy for the teaching of study skills: more succinctly, that "learning by doing" is the best way "study smart." Learning and study skills are important for learning. They are methods and ways of doing things that help make learning easier. Understanding how to study can also facilitate learning by assisting students as they complete assignments correctly and efficiently during a specified period of time. Just like any other skill, knowing how to learn and study proficiently must be learned and practiced over time. The Program has been designed to help students learn more efficiently and effectively.

Write Here: Developing Writing Skills in a Media-Driven World Randi Brummett de Leon 2020-04-30 Write Here is designed to teach students essential reading and writing skills, using media examples to help explain academic concepts and provide opportunities for practice. However, it also covers such topics as logical fallacies, rhetoric, timed writing, academic writing, source integration, and MLA/APA documentation, making it appropriate for a first-year or "stretch" composition course. Many beginning writing students are underprepared and feel that writing just "isn't for them." The authors hope to dispel that myth by using media examples and a conversational tone to introduce and teach the material. Write Here provides examples that are interesting to students, while allowing them to connect to the subject matter on a more personal level—additionally, the process of analyzing the media helps students sharpen their reading, writing, and critical thinking skills.
